

Coordinator - Value Analysis (clinical license)

Overview and Qualifications:

Role Summary: This professional level position is a key participant in the Value Analysis process and provides objective clinical expertise to the clinical product selection process. Is a System-wide clinical resource to assist in product standardization efforts across Mission Health, including Mission affiliates. Work situations are varied, requiring broad-based clinical expertise, knowledge of medical products, strong leadership skills, including discretion, the ability to research, analyze, and draw sound conclusions, the ability to effectively navigate between financial and clinical requirements, and the ability to facilitate consensus between differing parties.

Develops effective strategies in conjunction with Director of Clinical Resource to compare and evaluate the relative merits, value and utilization of commodity and clinician preference products for subsequent introduction to the hospital. Assists with all product recalls and device safety alerts as needed. Strong interpersonal communication skills and customer service skills are of critical importance.

Skills, Knowledge, Abilities:

Required Education: Bachelor's Degree in Health Care Administration, Business Management, Supply Chain Management, Nursing, or related healthcare field required

Preferred Education: Master's Degree

Required License: Appropriate Clinical License

Preferred License: N/A

Required Experience: 5-7 years working in clinical settings Proficient in the use of Microsoft Office tools (Excel, Access, and Word).

Preferred Experience: Experience in value analysis /supply chain.

Diverse background in an acute care hospital setting

Required Experience: 5-7 years working in clinical settings Proficient in the use of Microsoft Office tools (Excel, Access, and Word).

To apply, please visit Mission Careers